

INFORMATION ABOUT THE SESSION

About: Lego-based therapy helps autistic children develop social skills like sharing, turn-taking, and problem-solving, helping them build relationships and feel secure at school.

The session will: enable participants to facilitate small group interventions, using the techniques learned.

Target audience: LA's/TA's who would be available to run small group Lego based therapy interventions. SENCO's who want to find out more on this intervention.

Cost: Fully funded (free) for Sutton schools and settings that buy EP hours; others, please contact for pricing.
